
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASERoss & Baruzzini Appoints Director of Security Consulting
Appointment Reinforces the Firm's Strong Security and IT Capabilities

SAINT LOUIS, MO, (May 21, 2008) - Ross & Baruzzini, Inc. today announced that Ann Barry has joined the firm as Director of Security Consulting.

Ann has more than 20 years of technology experience, including her most recent assignment as the Manager of the Homeland Security Program Center for TSC in Washington. She has a well-earned reputation as a leader in the emergent world of converged security for the government and transportation industries. Ann has been principally responsible for the development of pioneering applications involving ground surveillance radar, radar/video fusion, airport security display processing and radar/biometric RFID systems, and she has served major airport clients as well as the FAA, NASA and the US Navy.

Commenting on the new appointment, Dave Kipp, Ross & Baruzzini Senior Vice President, said, "Ann is not only a top-tier thinker and practitioner in the allied fields of homeland security, but she has a particularly agile and insightful mind that makes her wonderful to work with. A knowledge leader of her caliber is a great addition to our growing consulting practice areas."

Barry received her MS degrees in Electrical Engineering and Computer Science from George Washington University and John Hopkins University and her BA from Hollins College.
